PRESENTERS & FACILITATORS

Mandy Hampton Wray, Ph.D., CCC-SLP is an assistant professor in the Department of Communication Science & Disorders at the University of Pittsburgh. She teaches courses on stuttering, regularly presents as professional conferences, and publishes in peer-reviewed journals. Her research program focuses on the development of neural systems that support language, including semantics, syntax, phonology, attention, and inhibition. She uses a multimodal approach that incorporates behavioral and neurophysiological methods to study language and attention systems in children with typical development and communication disorders, specifically stuttering.

Allison Ladavat, M.A., CCC-SLP is a person who stutters and a speech-language pathologist. She currently works as an Early Intervention therapist, treating infants and toddlers with various speech and language delays/disorders. Allison recently founded the private practice, Pittsburgh Stuttering Therapy, where she works with individuals of all ages who stutter.

Caryn Herring, M.S., CCC-SLP is a person who stutters, a speech-language pathologist, and a doctoral candidate at Michigan State University. Caryn’s research interests include the process of desensitization for people who stutter and the role of voluntary stuttering. Caryn has been involved with Friends since 2010 and currently serves as the chairperson on the board of directors. She co-hosts the StutterTalk B-Team and is an active member of other stuttering organizations, including SAY and the NSA.

Sara MacIntyre, M.A., CCC-SLP serves as the FRIENDS One-Day Conference Director. She is the director of YouSpeak, a private practice in Philadelphia, where she works with individuals who stutter at all ages. Sara also works for Stuttering Foundation as the Director of Programs and Education.

Erica Lescht, M.A., CF-SLP is a PhD student in the Department of Communication Science and Disorders at the University of Pittsburgh. Her research interests focus on language processing and executive function in children and adults who do and do not stutter. She regularly presents at professional conferences.
